

JORDI AZATEGUI AMMAC

FILM EDITOR
(Barcelona, 1973)

Graduated in Applied Arts from the Llotja Advanced School of Arts and Design in 1996. I developed talents for the creative thinking and artistic expression that led me to 20 years as a creative director which I combined with a personal career as a photographer and filmmaker, exhibiting my pictures and films in various European cities. This drove me to an extensive career as a film editor and director of photography for the award-winning international filmmaker Isabel Coixet with whom I have won awards including a Goya and two Biznaga Awards at the Malaga Film Festival.

I have edited films featuring international artists like Alba Rohrwacher, Elio Germano, Francesco Carril, Sarita Choudhury, Timothy Spall, Carmen Machi, Pedro Casablanc, Candela Peña, Javier Cámara, Guillermo Pfenning, Yolanda Ramos, Agnès Jaoui, Bérénice Bejo, Daniel Brühl, Antonio de la Torre, Rebecca Grant, Joaquín Furriel, Laia Costa, Hovik Keuchkerian, Hugo Silva or Luis Bermejo among others.

I am a member of the European Film Academy, the Catalan Cinematographic Arts and Sciences Academy and the Film Editors of Catalonia Association (AMMAC). I have recently been nominated for Spain at the Platino Ibero-American Film Awards as Best Editing Director for "Un Amor" (2024).

Thanks to an early musical training and my extensive artistic and technical knowledge, I developed an enormous sensitivity and a solid critical sense that allows me to undertake any film project with intuition, flexibility and the highest narrative quality.
